Introduction

Vincent Willem van Gogh

, Vincent Willem van Gogh (30 March 1853 – 29 July 1890) was a Dutch painter. He is one of the most famous and important artists in Western art history.

In just over 10 years, he made about 2,100 pieces of art. This includes around 860 oil paintings, most of which he painted in the last two years of his life. His paintings often show landscapes, still life, people, and self-portraits.

Van Gogh used bright colors and strong brushstrokes, which helped inspire modern art styles like expressionism.

During his life, he was not very well-known, and he only sold one painting, The Red Vineyard. He died at the age of 37, likely by suicide, just as people were starting to notice his work

Sunflower

Sunflowers (French title: Tournesols) is the name of two sets of paintings by the Dutch artist Vincent van Gogh.

- The first set, made in 1887 in Paris, shows sunflowers lying on the ground.
- The second set, painted in 1888 in Arles, shows sunflowers in a vase.

Van Gogh connected both sets of paintings to his friend, Paul Gauguin, who owned two of the Paris versions.

About eight months later, Van Gogh wanted to welcome and impress Gauguin with the new Sunflowers paintings. He made them as part of the decorations for the guest room in his Yellow House in Arles, where Gauguin was supposed to stay.
